

FoolsFURY Theater Company's mission is to revitalize the American theater by:

- Creating ground-breaking visceral performances that inspire audiences and artists to reconsider and reconnect with the world around them
- Emphasizing qualities of the theater that can only be experienced live
- Advancing artistic dialogue through training, research and presentation

FoolsFURY is a San Francisco based performance ensemble. Named the city's "Best Theater Company" by the SF Weekly (2008) and awarded the SF Bay Guardian's GOLDIE award for outstanding local theater group, we place a premium on the creation process, spending longer periods developing our work than is the norm in mainstream American theater.

We are also the producers of the FURY Factory Festival of Ensemble and Devised Theater, a biennial gathering of performing artists from around the Bay Area and the world. Since its inception in 2005, FURY Factory has become one of San Francisco's most exciting cultural events, a diverse and accessible home for audiences and artists. www.foolsfury.org

BRING (DIS)PLACE[D] TO YOUR THEATER, SYNAGOGUE, OR COMMUNITY CENTER

(dis)Place[d] is available for touring in various forms: in a version with rich video projections and full lighting, in scaled down versions (such as what you are seeing tonight), and paired with educational and creative workshops.

If your organization would like to host a performance, contact information@foolsfury.org

foolsFURY presents

(dis)Place[d]

written and performed by Debórah Eliezer
directed by Ben Yalom

